Preparing Learners for Life in Modern Britain

'Together we unlock potential and learn for life'

The Department for Education has introduced a statutory duty for all UK schools to promote and teach fundamental British Values.

At Moor First School we take very seriously our responsibility to prepare our learners for life in modern Britain. We value and recognise the multi-cultural, multi-faith and ever changing nature of the United Kingdom and undertake a variety of events and lessons to celebrate and explore other cultures in our country and the wider world. Whilst promoting equal opportunities we also understand the vital role we play as a school in ensuring that groups or individuals within the school are not subjected to intimidation or radicalisation by those wishing to influence them.

We ensure that the fundamental British Values are introduced, discussed and lived out through the every-day work and ethos of our school's learning community. All curriculum areas provide a vehicle for further understanding the key values. Our 'Creative Curriculum' provides excellent opportunities to develop and deepen understanding of the 'spiritual, moral, social and cultural' education of our learners.

The Government sets out its definition of British Values in the 2011 'Prevent Strategy'. The five British Values are:-

- Democracy
- The rule of law
- Individual liberty
- Mutual respect
- Tolerance of those of different faiths and beliefs

As a school we make considerable efforts to ensure that our learners have exposure to a wide variety of learning experiences beyond the local community, through educational visits, workshops, sporting events and the use of outdoor education centres. All these opportunities provide a purposeful platform for embracing difference and diversity.

The following sub-pages provide just some examples of how fundamental British Values are promoted and taught at Moor First School:-

Individual Liberty

British Value Statement	Evidence	Impact
Our learners are actively encouraged to make independent choices within a safe, secure and supportive learning environment. Our school philosophy that 'everyone and every child matters' holds self-worth and self-respect at the heart of all we do. Learners are strongly encouraged to develop an independent approach to their learning, empowering them to make informed decisions to improve their outcomes. Learners are provided with clear boundaries and supportive mechanisms in which to make choices and understand their personal freedoms. They are advised and made aware on how to exercise their choices with a regard for the safety,	anti-bullying culture and has in place a consistent and fair behaviour policy which values self-worth and mutual respect *Learners are involved in esafety and regular health and safety reviews. They risk assess a wide variety of activities which directly impact on their health and well-being across all aspects of school life. *Topical issues relevant and suitable to the age of the children are sometimes discussed in assemblies or class, and children are encouraged to share their thoughts and opinions on these.

Tolerance/acceptance of those with different Faiths and Beliefs

British Value Statement	Evidence	Impact
Our learners are actively encouraged to appreciate and celebrate diversity. Learners are supported through the school's SMSC curriculum to understand their place in a culturally diverse society and school community. Learners are taught to respect themselves, family, friends, and other groups; the world and its people; and the environment. We strive to ensure that learners leave with a strong foundation of values upon which to build a successful life and make a successful contribution to a very diverse society.	RE units of study. * Learners work in partnership with others within the 'Biddulph Partnership Trust', participating in annual 'Faith in Focus/Diversity' enrichment weeks. *Learners are actively encouraged to share their own faith and beliefs within school and celebrate different festivals throughout the calendar year. *Learners benefit from	Learners are able to talk about the importance of diversity within our society. They have knowledge of different faiths and cultures and ask questions and show tolerance and respect for others beliefs. Learners understand that other people can have different faiths or beliefs and that these should not be the cause of prejudice or discriminatory behaviour. Learners embody the school's philosophy that 'everyone and every child matters'.

We also subscribe to picture news and use it weekly for an assembly, within class discussion and PSHE lessons.
